Investment Strategy and Objective:

The Rockman Capital Growth Portfolio serves to provide investors with capital appreciation over the medium to long term as its primary objective. The portfolio will predominantly consist of companies and instruments with above average growth and corporates that reinvest their earnings into expansion, acquisitions and/or research and development.

Portfolio Fundamentals:

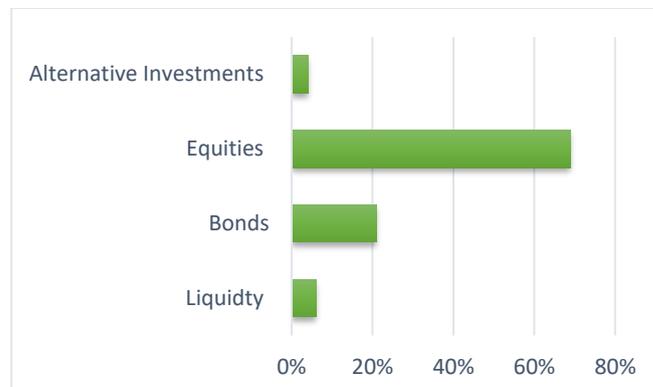

A universe of investable counters and instruments is maintained on an ongoing basis. We follow a research-based approach. From this universe a consensus of forecasts is constructed, and a means-based forecast return may be calculated and continuously interrogated. Strategic asset allocations are made in seeking to anticipate market dislocations and reacting accordingly. Broader investment themes are kept up to date, based on industry research and by our investment team anticipating macro changes in the global economy.

Client Portfolio Construction:

Segregated portfolios are structured within the predetermined mandate and according to clients' specific needs. The Rockman Capital investment team uses their combined expertise to construct portfolios that generate wealth through the discretionary management of unique equity portfolios. We apply a top-down macro analysis. This ensures that we get the big investment narratives right, by investing in the appropriate jurisdictions. Our bottom-up, means-based process ensures we select the investment counters that are expected to match your individual risk-adjusted returns. This allows your portfolio to be tailored to suit your individual investment needs. We constantly reassess and adapt your portfolio according to your changing personal circumstances or risk profile together with prevailing market conditions.
